

Introduction

Threshfield school invited Kev Cole the archaeologist to come along to tell us about the archaeology in Linton camp. He took photos to record what we did, we looked at maps and pictures of the field. We also looked at humps and bumps and all the earth works. We put all the clues together and tried to understand what went on in the field behind Linton camp.

The earth works are evidence of people living and working there in the past.

